Position the cursor on the keyboard when you want to store a shortcut to a keyboard command. This way, you can easily insert a keyboard command. In Premiere Pro CS6, you can specify the number of shortcuts that are displayed as part of the Keyboard Shortcut pane (Window/Keyboard Shortcuts) • For help with the shortcut pane, see Working with keyboard shortcuts • To work with keyboard shortcuts, see Using the Keyboard Shortcuts Pane in Premiere Pro. • To preview keyboard shortcuts, see Keyboard Shortcuts Preview. Create a keyboard shortcut to paste a clip (Windows/Edit/Keyboard Shortcuts/Keyboard Shortcuts) • For help with keyboard shortcuts, see Working with keyboard shortcuts • In Premiere Pro, you can right-click a clip or layer and choose Paste from the shortcut menu. This adds the clip to your project. • To paste the clip, right-click it and choose Paste from the shortcut menu. When you drag the rectangle around a clip to define a cut, you are defining the clip area that will be removed from the project. The clip isn't really deleted; it just isn't included in the project. When you are finished cutting, dragging the clip's area to the area it belongs to completes the cut, and the clip is added to the project. • You can also delete a clip with the Media Bin. See Deleting clips. This makes the clip unavailable for use in your project and removes it from the project bin. • To delete a clip, select it and then choose Delete from the Media Bin menu. This works the same as if you dragged the area to the bin. Drag a clip from the project bin to its place in the timeline (Windows/Project/Place Items in the Timeline). • To drag a clip or clip area from the bin to its place in the timeline, drag the clip or area that you want into the timeline. • You can either drag it all the way into place, or you can press Ctrl (on the Mac) or Command+click (on the PC) and then click the clip or area that you want to place in the timeline. • You can also drag the clip or area and hold down Ctrl (on the Mac) or Command (on the PC) to preview the clip as it is being placed. • If you move the cursor outside the bin, the clip appears as a preview of what it will look like when placed. 1d6a3396d6
