I have to record and edit text into HTML using a particular keyboard combination. Now, I can use a combination of TAB, SHIFT and CTRL to perform the same function as quickly as with my previous programs. Before I had it, I could only record a single combination of letters but with KeyMacro I can now record combinations of words or text. I also record the currently playing audio as well as the static of a telephone. KEYMACRO also has a feature that allows you to record audio commands from Windows Speech Recognition. You can use this to record voice instructions for customers or clients as well as voice memos. I highly recommend KeyMacro. It is very efficient and functional.
