I have used some of the Bride ones before but I never really liked the way I made them look like they were all individual ones, so I always ended up using it for backups and overwriting them with the main covers I wanted to use on my current project. Wow! I love the set. It's huge! I like the bride ones a lot, and I'm glad you were able to find an appropriate license. icons, you'd just need the actual.png file, not just the name. Same with the DVD icons? It would be great if you could throw together a DVD case of the Disney Movie Trailers too, don't you think?
