FLVTool2 is a small flv (flash video) to FLV converter that converts, cut, merge, split and combine flv files. It also can check the file sizes and write a log file where you can see all the data in xml format. It has an in-built HTML editor and URL finder. You can select up to 50 actions to check files. (It can do more but it has not yet been tested). You can select different formats for saving files. (mp3, wav, mp4, and DivX). FLVTool2 has editing options. You can use the before and after FLV file change options. You can use a batch mode where you can select lots of files. (FLVTool2 will do the job). You can use the regular way where you select a file and add actions to do the work.

FLVTool2 has also an audio editor. There you can cut, merge, mix and live record audio with a browser (RealPlayer, VLC media player...). FLVTool2 can edit cue points. You can record audio and video with FLVTool2 and add a cue point when you want to pause the video. FLVTool2 checks file sizes. You can use the real size or the compressed size. You can have two log files (one original, one compressed). It also has an anti-virus option (You can add it to the FLVTool2 directory or use the quarantine feature). FLVTool2 has a built-in FLV player. You can select the target directory of the target file. FLVTool2 has a batch mode for lots of files. FLVTool2 has an editor for the meta data. You can insert an onMetaData tag, delete one, replace the URL, replace the duration for one file, check the file size and delete all the files with one click. It also has an option to cut multiple files from the same directory (top up to 50 files). FLVTool2 has a URL finder. You can open an url file with your browser or select a target url for an url file. It can check all the file sizes for each url. FLVTool2 has an Anti-virus protection. If you choose to add the FLVTool2 directory to your anti-virus program you can scan the FLVTool2 files and you will get a notification with the antivirus status of
